"Parable of the Unforgiving Servant"

Lesson: Matthew 18:21-35

SUNDAY CHURCH SCHOOL LESSON

GOLDEN TEXT:

"Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, even as I had pity on thee?" — Matthew 18:33

TODAY'S AIM:

"To see that Christlike forgiveness has no limits."

INTRODUCING THE LESSON:

In our lesson text today, Peter brought up the subject of Jesus' teaching on forgiveness. Many of us can identify with the subject, since we all have had others offend us or wrong us, perhaps even repeatedly. These offenses might range from slights to downright crimes or attacks. We may well have asked, "How long will this go on?" or "Why do I have to put up with this?" Today we will get the answer from the Great Forgiver, the Lord Jesus Himself?

We may have also wronged someone else and wished for that person's forgiveness. We have all sinned in act or word against someone else and even against the Lord. Foremost, we need God's forgiveness, which He has promised to those who come to Him in faith. How many times will He forgive us for failings and sins that we commit against Him repeatedly? His forgiveness of us sets the pattern for our forgiveness of one another.

PRACTICAL POINTS:

1. There should be no end to the forgiveness we extend to others (Matthew 18:21-22).
2. We will be held accountable for every wrong we have done and careless word we have spoken (Matthew 18:23-25).
3. God freely bestows His grace and forgiveness when we throw ourselves on His mercy (Matthew 18:26-27).
4. When we are given the opportunity to show kindness to others, we should do so (Matthew 18:28-30).
5. Failure to show the compassion we have been shown leaves a bad testimony (Matthew 18:31-34).
6. True forgiveness starts in the heart (Matthew 18:35).

CONCLUDING THE LESSON:

It was impossible for us to repay the debt we owed God because of our sin and rebellion against Him. We had noting with which to pay. All our righteousness was as filthy rags to Him. Yet when we simply placed our faith in Christ, God graciously and fully forgave us. We grieve other Christians and hurt our testimony among the unsaved when we demonstrate an unforgiving spirit or heart. If we are unforgiving, we have failed to appreciate God's forgiveness and are showing a changed heart. We cannot tell anyone that God will forgive their sin if we who have been forgiving are ourselves unforgiving people!
